

The Six Wives of Henry VIII

King Henry VIII lived a very long time ago in England. He was a powerful king who had six wives! Their names were Catherine of Aragon, Anne Boleyn, Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Howard, and Catherine Parr.

Henry and his wives lived in big, beautiful palaces. Some of his wives had children who later became kings or queens of England. Jane Seymour gave Henry a son called Edward. Catherine of Aragon had a daughter called Mary, and Anne Boleyn had a daughter called Elizabeth, who became one of England's most famous queens.

Life for Henry's wives was not always happy or safe. Some were treated very badly. Today we learn about them in history because their stories help us understand what life was like long ago.
