1) I am known for my rugged Highlands and hundreds of islands. One of my most famous lakes is Loch Ness. My largest city is Glasgow.

5) I have deep fjords carved by glaciers and dramatic mountain scenery. My city of Bergen is famous for its colourful waterfront. I stretch far into the Arctic north.

2) I am home to cities such as Seville and Valencia. The Sierra Nevada mountains can be found to the south. I am known for my sunny beaches and historic Moorish buildings.

6) I have towering Alpine peaks and beautiful lakes. My cities of Geneva and Zürich are known around the world. Several important European rivers begin in my mountains.

3) I am famous for my snowy Alpine mountains and winter sports. The city of Salzburg is closely linked to Mozart and music. Part of the River Danube flows through me.

7) I am home to the Lake District and much of a long chain of hills called the Pennines. Several large rivers flow across me, including the Trent and the Tyne. My coastline includes chalk cliffs, estuaries and busy ports.

4) I am a small country with the busy port city of Antwerp and the historic city of Bruges. I am famous for my chocolate and waffles. Much of my land is low-lying and flat.

8) I am home to the cities of Lyon and Marseille. The River Rhône flows through part of me. Mont Blanc, the highest mountain in western Europe, stands on one of my borders.
