

Ancient Greece – What Happened When?

Ancient Greece was a place that existed a very, very long time ago — thousands of years before you were born! The Greeks lived in a sunny land surrounded by the sea. They built beautiful temples for their gods, like Zeus, who they believed lived on a tall mountain called Mount Olympus.

The Greeks loved stories, sport, and learning. They invented the Olympic Games, where athletes ran races and competed to win. The games were held every four years.

Greek people lived in different cities, like Athens and Sparta. Athens was famous for learning, and Sparta was famous for its tough, brave soldiers. Ancient Greece helped shape the world we live in today.

Questions

1. How long ago did Ancient Greece exist?
2. What surrounded the land where the Greeks lived?
3. Who did the Greeks believe lived on Mount Olympus?
4. What was the name of the mountain the Greeks believed their gods lived on?
5. What did the Greeks invent that we still have today?
6. How often were the Olympic Games held?
7. Name one thing the Greeks loved.
8. Name two cities where Greek people lived.
9. What was Athens famous for?
10. Why do you think Ancient Greece is described as having "helped shape the world we live in today"?

Text A Quiz

